When the report of the committee on pensions had been read Chairman Walker moved that it be adopted as a whole.

A question arose over the advisability of using the phrase "property" when speaking of a "pension," and several of the comrades favored changing the reports so as to speak of pension rights instead of property rights. Comrade Warner of Missouri and Charles Townsend of Ohio approved the report as read, both complimenting the committee on the carefulness of its work. Considerable discussion followed, principally on technical points, but when it came to a final vote every delegate stood to his feet. There was no one voting in the negative.

While this discussion on the expediency of adopting the report as a whole, or making it a "little stronger," as one delegate put it was under way, a telegram from which the signature had been detached, was read by Comrade Walker. It came from Washington and was as follows: "Have just interviewed the secretary of the interior and commissioner of pensions and urged the renewal of all suspensions of pensions under recent orders, so as to enable comrades to draw pensions now due, and their case to be adjudicated under order as recently modified. They refused, but finally promised to settle all suspended cases within two weeks."

When this telegram was read a delegate cried out at the top of his voice: "We want to hear nothing from them," and the laugh which followed was general.

The encampment was about ready to adjourn when the committee, to which had been referred the budget of resolutions submitted by individual delegates, appeared with its report. The memorial and resolution that the pay of soldiers in the late war be made upon the gold basis by congress, was, on the recommendation of the committee, laid on the table.

On the memorial demanding that the law giving preference to veterans in the public service be enforced, the committee reported favorably, and it was adopted.

The memorial suggesting appropriate exercises as a substitute for the parade of the annual encampment was not approved.

The memorial asking for the restoration of public lands in Oklahoma for a soldiers' home was referred by the committee to the council of administration, with power to act.

The memorial asking that transportation be furnished to those soldiers entitled to artificial limbs to places where they can get the limbs which they prefer, was approved and the resolution adopted.

The resolution asking the Grand Army posts to hold appropriate services on Washington's birthday, was indorsed by the committee and passed by the encampment.

The committee reported adversely to sustaining the appeal of C. S. Cole of Illinois from the department decision, that the Grand Army can not collect debts for members and the encampment so voted.

Past Commander-in-Chief Beath of Philadelphia submitted a lengthy report relative to memorials for changes in the constitution and rules. They are of no public importance, affecting but minor points of the rules of the order. A long and wearisome discussion followed upon an appeal from the decision of the department of Wisconsin regarding the seniority of posts. The appeal will be sustained against the department.

Resolutions were adopted expressive of thanks to Indianapolis for the entertainment of the national encampment.

The only remaining business about the installation of the officers elected at a simple, but impressive, service, before the standing encampment.

The new commander-in-chief, six feet in height, and looking like the born-commander, the comrades broke out in applause. With firm and impressive voice, he repeated the obligation. The badge of the commander-in-chief was pinned upon his breast, and Comrade Adams became the official head of 400,000 veterans. In ringing and stirring words he pledged his best to the work and appealed to the encampment to rally with new zeal under the glorious banner upon whose folds are the words, "Fraternity, Charity and Loyalty."

The Massachusetts Women's Relief Corps sent in a basket of roses, which were presented by Past Commander-in-Chief Weissert in a few appropriate words.

"Is there any further business before the encampment?" was the inquiry of the new commander.

After a moment's silence he continued: "The chaplain-in-chief will ask God's blessing as we part."

Then the encampment rose and stood with bowed heads, and in silence only broken by the invocation of the man of God.

At the conclusion Commander-in-chief Adams said: "I now declare the 27th national encampment of the Grand Army adjourned," and the delegates dispersed.

The national convention of the Women's Relief Corps, at its closing session, elected the following officers and then adjourned to meet at Pittsburg one year hence:

President—Sarah C. Mink, New York.
Senior vice president—Jennie S. Myerhuff, Indianapolis.
Junior vice president—Amanda T. Newcombe, Vermont.
Chaplain—Harriet K. Bodge, Connecticut.
Treasurer—Armilla A. Cheney, Detroit.

At the final session of the Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic these officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—Mrs. Amanda J. Withers of Ohio.
Senior vice president—Mrs. Taylor of Ohio.

Junior vice president—Mrs. E. P. Anderson of California.
Treasurer—Mrs. Gordon of Kansas.
Counsellor—Mrs. Carrie V. Sheriff of Pennsylvania.

Council of administration—Mrs. Josie Slicker of Pennsylvania, Mrs. Emma Dalton of Kansas, Mrs. Etta Tobey of Indiana.

MEXICO MUST SETTLE.

Salinas, the Sheep Man, Is an American Citizen.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—The Mexican government will, in all probability, be compelled by the United States to pay damages for the action of the Mexican custom officer at Matamoros in sending armed men to the disputed island in the Rio Grande and seizing the sheep of Thomas Salinas, as it turns out that he is an American citizen.

The information came in a dispatch from General Wheat, commanding the department of Texas, to General Schofield. Salinas is a voter in Starr county, Tex. The state department hesitated in taking a hand in the matter until the evidence now in the possession of the government had been secured and now having attained it will assume charge of the case of this country in the pending dispute.

SENATE PROCEEDINGS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—In the senate yesterday Mr. Walcott (Rep., Colo.) presented a resolution for the immediate repeal of the McKinley tariff bill. Referred. Mr. Walcott also presented a resolution calling for information from the secretary of the treasury as to what sums have been paid as bounty on maple sugar and asked for immediate consideration.

Mr. Gallinger objected and the resolution went over until tomorrow.

Mr. White of California offered a resolution calling for information regarding expenditures under the Chinese exclusion act and whether any additional appropriation is necessary. Agreed to.

REVOLT IN BRAZIL.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Reliable dispatches say that the Brazilian naval squadron has revolted, and that the government will not be able to prevent the bombardment of Rio de Janeiro. The Brazilian government has stopped all general communication by wire with Europe and America.

STRICKEN WITH APPOXY.

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 8.—Henry C. Paine, one of the receivers of the Northern Pacific, was stricken with apoplexy yesterday afternoon while on a Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul train at Western Union junction. He was brought to the city and has not as yet regained consciousness.

RAILROAD COLLISION

Two Fast Trains Run Into Each Other.

ELEVEN LIVES WERE LOST.

Nearly a Score of Other Unfortunates Were Maimed and Mangled—Names of the Dead and Injured—The Casualty the Result of a Blunder Inexcusable by Even the Railroad Officials.

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—Two fast trains on the Pennsylvania railroad crashed into each other near Colehour, a small town near the Indiana state line, yesterday morning, and in an instant 11 lives were lost and nearly a score of other unfortunates were maimed and mangled. Following is a list of the killed and injured:

The killed are:
Chester E. Coffin, Carthage, Ind.
A. S. Temple, manager Schiller theater, Chicago.

Emil Godenrath, nephew of Temple.
Evan Rigney, freight agent Wisconsin Central railroad.

J. D. Adams, Fairfield, Ills.
F. M. Bomard, Terre Haute, Ind.

F. D. Fleming, Fairfield, Ills.
W. D. Richardson, 2117 State street, Chicago.

Albert Heinz, Vincennes, Ind.
William Shousker, New Albany, Indiana.

Unknown tramp at Murphy's morgue, South Chicago.

The wounded:

William Richter, Edwardsport, Ind., head hurt and internal injuries.

William Brewer, baggagemaster, Louisville, left leg amputated, internal injuries.

Joseph Vale, Louisville, head cut.

Claude Derber, train newsboy, right foot amputated.

Herman Lichter, Freelandville, Ind., head cut.

Harry Klein, Vincennes, Ind., internal injuries.

Michael Vale, Louisville, internally hurt.

W. A. Hill, Conboe, Ind., skull fractured; may die.

Henry Hogenmeyer, Sanborn, Ind., head cut and internal injuries.

John Briscoe, Logansport, Ind., head cut and back hurt.

W. H. Turner, colored, head cut, internal injuries.

Casper Mayer, Vincennes, Ind., back cut, internal injuries.

Joseph Echenbom, Camden, O., chest hurt.

The casualty appears to have been the result of a blunder inexcusable by even the railroad officials. Two trains were scheduled to pass south on the single line of the track between Colehour, Ills., and Hammond, Ind., constructed by the Pennsylvania to meet the exigencies of the world's fair traffic. At about the same time a train was due north on the track, and this appears to have been fully understood in the train dispatcher's office. It was arranged to give the north train, due at the Union depot at 9:35 o'clock with milk and way passengers from Valparaiso, Ind., the right of way, and it was ordered to proceed toward Chicago and it did so at the rate of 30 miles an hour.

In the meantime trains No. 160 and 12, the latter the Panhandle express, was supposed to have been held on the double track at Colehour, to await the passage of No. 43, the milk train. Orders were given the operator at Colehour to hold No. 160 but nothing was said to him about No. 12. He obeyed orders and No. 12 was allowed to enter upon the single track on its schedule time running 40 miles an hour, directly towards the milk train, which had also been given the right of way in an opposite direction on the same track. The Panhandle express had proceeded but a short distance on its way and was rounding a slight curve when the milk train was sighted ahead, and the two trains scarcely slackening in speed in the short distance, dashed into each other.

The wreck which ensued was complete. The engine crews saved their lives by jumping. The two locomotives came together with a crash that wrecked both, and drove the baggage-car of the Panhandle train completely through the smoking car behind it.

In this car were about 40 passengers, and in it the loss of life occurred. So completely was the car wrecked that it seemed miraculous that any of those in it escaped alive; but when the rescuers rallied to the scene and began the work of securing the bodies of the dead and rescuing the injured, it was found that many who had been on the ill-fated car were foremost in their ranks.

ONE DEAD, ONE INJURED.

HAZELTON, Pa., Sept. 8.—By the breaking of a board over a coal pocket in the Milnesville colliery, Michael Chevin and John Androse were precipitated into the coal bin. A gondola was being loaded from it at the time and the men were drawn down. When taken out Chevin was dead and Androse fatally injured.

STRIKERS RIOT.

LONDON, Sept. 8.—There was a strikers riot near Sheffield yesterday. A mob of strikers set fire to several coal wagons standing at a railway station and demolished the coal agent's offices. The riot was quelled by soldiers. Similar rioting is reported in the Dewsbury, Burnstall, Rotherham and Nottingham districts.

RESIGNATION ASKED FOR.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Secretary Carlisle has asked for the resignation of George P. Waldorf, collector of internal revenue for the Tenth district.

DEATH OF HAMILTON FISH.

The Ex-Secretary of State Dies at His Country Residence, Garrisons, N. Y.

GARRISONS, Sept. 8.—Hon. Hamilton Fish, ex-secretary of state, died at his country residence here yesterday.

Mr. Fish leaves a family of six children, his wife having died in 1889. His children are Hamilton Fish, lawyer; Nicholas Fish of the firm of Harriman & Company, bankers; Mr. Stuyvesant Fish, president of the Illinois Central railroad; Mrs. A. J. Benjamin. Mrs. I. L. Rogers and Mrs. Sidney Webster. The funeral services will be held at Glen Cliffe on next Sunday.

Biographical.

Hamilton Fish was born in New York city, Aug. 3, 1808. He was graduated from Columbia in 1827, studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1830. He was several years a commissioner of deeds. In politics he was a Whig, and was the defeated candidate of that party for the state assembly in 1834. In 1842 he was elected a representative in congress from the Sixth district of New York and served one term. In 1840 he was a candidate for lieutenant governor. The Whig candidate for governor, John Young, was elected, but Mr. Fish, who had incurred the hostility of the anti-slavery by his warm denunciation of their principles, was defeated. In 1848 he was chosen governor by about 30,000 majority. In 1851 he was elected United States senator in place of Daniel S. Dickinson. In the senate he opposed the repeal of the Missouri compromise and acted with the Republican party from its formation to the end of his term. On his return from a trip to Europe he took an active part in the campaign that resulted in the election of Abraham Lincoln. In January, 1862, in conjunction with Bishop Ames, he was appointed by Secretary Stanton a commissioner to visit the United States soldiers imprisoned at Richmond and elsewhere "to relieve their necessities and provide for their comfort." The Confederate government declined to admit the commissioners within their lines, but intimated their readiness to negotiate for a general exchange of the prisoners of war. The result was an agreement for an equal exchange to the end of the war. In 1868 he aided in the election of General Grant, was appointed secretary of state by him in March, 1869, and was reappointed at the beginning of his second term in March 1873, serving from March 11, 1869, to March 12, 1877. On Feb. 9, 1871, the president appointed him one of the commissioners on the part of the United States to negotiate the treaty of Washington, which was signed by him on May 8 of that year. He effected a settlement of the long-standing northwestern boundary dispute, giving the island of San Juan to the United States, and successfully resisted an effort by Great Britain to change the terms of the extradition treaty by municipal legislation; in the settlement of the Alabama question he procured the acceptance of a doctrine by the Geneva tribunal securing the United States against claims for indirect damages arising out of Fenian raids or Cuban filibustering expeditions. In November, 1873, he negotiated with Admiral Folio, Spanish minister at Washington, the settlement of the "Virginius" question. He was for some years president of the New York Historical society, and was president general of the New York Society of the Cincinnati.

STRUCK BY A CYCLONE.

A Little Louisiana Village Wiped Out or Existence by a Hurricane.

RACELAND, La., Sept. 8.—A severe cyclone struck the pretty little town of Lockport, on Bayou Lafourche, at 9 a. m., and left it a mass of ruins and desolation. Strong winds had been raging all night, accompanied by rain. No serious results were apprehended until the wind shifted suddenly to the southwest and blew at a terrible rate, carrying everything in its path.

A BLOODY TRAGEDY.

Daring Attempt at Bank Robbery in Colorado.

A CASHIER SHOT DOWN DEAD.

Two of the Robbers Are Dead and the Third Will Soon Be in the Hands of the Officers of the Law, Who Are in Hot Pursuit.

DELTA, Colo., Sept. 8.—Cashier A. T. Blachly of the Farmers' and Merchants' bank was shot dead while defending his trust yesterday morning by three robbers. Two of the robbers are dead and the third will soon be in the hands of the officers of the law, who are in hot pursuit.

The above sentences form the brief but sad story of a bloody tragedy that occurred here. The whole town is wild with excitement, and many are the vows of vengeance heard.

The business of the Farmers' and Merchants' was proceeding as usual. There had been quite a number of customers in the earlier hours of the business day, but about 10:30 there was a slight lull. About 10:45 o'clock, when no customers were present, three men marched into the bank and covered those present with their guns. The spokesman, presenting his revolver at the head of Cashier Blachly, demanded that he hand over what funds there were in the bank, "and be quick about it."

But Mr. Blachly did not propose to give up the funds under his charge. His resolution was fatal to him.

Mr. Blachly refused to hand over the money. The robber without any further warning opened fire on the unfortunate man, killing him instantly.

The three men then grabbed all cash in sight, amounting perhaps to about $100. Then they started for the outside where their horses were hitched, but here they met their Nemesis, whose work was swift and sure.

W. Ray Simpson keeps a hardware store near the bank. The noise of the shot that killed poor Blachly attracted his attention. The uproar had also drawn quite a crowd of people to the spot. But they were not prepared for the robbers, while Simpson was. His trusty Winchester was loaded and he was a cool and sure shot. Simpson got into the street in front of the bank just as the three robbers were rushing out of the building.

The sharpshooting hardware man opened fire at once, while the robbers were attempting to mount their horses. His aim was sure. "Crack!" and a robber bit the dust, never to rise again. A muffled cheer rose from the bystanders. "Crack!" Another robber was hurled into eternity with his boots on and his prayers unsaid. This took place in less time than it takes to tell it, but the few seconds were the temporary salvation for the remaining robber, who was enabled to mount his horse and start down the road for the surrounding country.

By this time the bank was the center of an excited, angry multitude of citizens. They recovered from the shock and while a few tender hands went into the bank and carried out the lifeless remains of the heroic cashier, others rushed to their homes, secured horses, guns and ammunition and set off after the fleeing robber.

The identity of the robbers is a mystery yet. The bodies of the two assassins were taken to the coroner's office, where they were viewed by hundreds but nobody seemed to know who they were. A few had seen them lounging around a day or two before, but that was all.

The remains of Cashier Blachly were carried to his home. He leaves a wife and several children and was an old resident of this county.

IMPORTANT CIRCULAR.

Certificates of Deposit Issued in Lieu of Money to Be Taxed.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—The treasury department has issued a circular which, in its far-reaching effect, is "loaded to the muzzle."

OFFICE OF COMMISSIONER OF INTERNAL REVENUE, WASHINGTON, Sept. 8. To Collectors of Internal Revenue and Revenue Agents:

It has come to the knowledge of this office, through published news items, by correspondence and otherwise, that banks are issuing certificates of deposit payable in the money or currency of the United States, and that these obligations of the banks, negotiable notes, carrying title in their circulation from hand to hand, are paid out and used for circulation in lieu of the money of the United States.

Such issues are taxable, and you will inquire as to the amount of such issues, and report to this office for assessment of the taxes incurred.

JOSEPH S. MILLER, Com'r.

The taxable rate of such issues as described in the circular is 10 per cent on the dollar. The number now in circulation is believed to be very heavy, as they have taken the place during the financial stringency of currency or money. Whether the issues include clearinghouse certificates is a question treasury officials decline to discuss, intimating that the question is a legal one that may call for a judicial decision from the courts.

WEATHER FORECAST.
Showers, followed by clearing.

This is to be a great Republican year, says a contemporary. That's what they said last year and claimed everything on earth but hell and Texas. They didn't get Texas.

HON. W. C. P. BRECKINRIDGE acknowledges nothing, denies nothing. Whether his silence is gold or brass, the last fiery crucible of the courts will develop. Meantime it has been very significantly suggested that Messrs. Bronston, Owens, et al. shouldn't shy stones.

A FEW weeks ago it was common to see in the papers that this or that bank had suspended. As an indication of the return of confidence, the papers are now telling of the resumption of business of the banks that suspended. The clouds have about all rolled by and the sun is shining.

Puck's cartoon of Cleveland turning over to Harrison in 1889 the treasury with a surplus of $100,000,000 in it and blowing himself out, and of Harrison turning it over to Cleveland in 1893 with the doors off their hinges and the vault empty, more eloquently tells the tale of the "change the people got" than columns of editorials could.

JERRY SIMPSON had his son, a youth of some ten summers, in the House with him recently during the silver debate. The young Simpson was a perfect pocket edition reproduction of the older. He wore the same cut of jacket, his tie was twisted into the same knot of studied negligence, and taking the cue from his distinguished governor he applauded vigorously every point scored for free silver. He wore knickerbockers and long stockings, despite his father's prejudice against hosiery.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND is winning praise from fair-minded men of the Republican party who appreciate the importance of his administration to the country. Such a loyal Republican paper as the Buffalo, N. Y., Commercial has this to say of him: "In the whole course of his extraordinary career President Cleveland has never enjoyed the confidence and respect of his countrymen, without distinction of party, to a greater extent than he does today, on the threshold of a triumph for sound money principles of which he has contributed so largely."

DURING the past week there has been a decided improvement in the industrial situation throughout the Wheeling section of the Ohio Valley. Five big iron and steel plants in this immediate vicinity have resumed within the past five days, giving employment to over 3,000 men. At Steubenville, the Jefferson Works have given employment to 1,000 more. In the Wheeling and Lake Erie and Fairmount coal regions all the mines, employing about 4,000 men, will start up in full to-morrow. Both the mine operators and mill owners state that they have more orders than they can fill.

As long as the silver men see a chance to bring sixty cents' worth of bullion to the mint and have it coined into a dollar they will clamor for free coinage. But why not permit the oil men to take a sixty-cent barrel of oil to the government and have it refined free of charge with a handsome profit, or the farmer to take a bushel of wheat to the government mill and get a bushel of flour in return, or the hemlock man to take a thousand feet of logs to the government saw mill and come away with a thousand feet of hemlock boards? This is a government for the whole people. If the government wants to coin more silver, it had better begin on the thousands of tons it has of its own and work that up before going into the trade for other folks.—Bradford Era.

Withdrawal.

Mr. S. H. Harrison, of Helena, has formally withdrawn from the contest for State Senator. Mr. Harrison was well backed in his aspirations and was a formidable competitor for the nomination. His withdrawal narrows the race down to only two candidates, the Hon. A. P. Gooding and Mr. A. K. Marshall, both substantial farmers with a popular following. That it will be a lively race between these two gentlemen no one doubts, and the finish promises to be close enough to satisfy all lovers of exciting contests. The BULLETIN is only sorry both men can not receive the nomination.

THE copyright on the famous song, "Old Folks at Home," better known as "Swanee Ribber," expired the other day, and now anybody may sell or publish it. This ballad, which is said to have been more profitable than any other song ever written, is familiar to all nations, especially those to whom Patti has sung.

"TATTLE" in the Louisville Times, very sensibly remarks: "I have always been at a loss to understand why men will shoot and stab each other on account of candidates whom they barely know and who never know them except when there is a race to be run and won and votes are badly needed. However, it has always been that way and I suppose it always will. This is a glorious country, and the blessings of liberty must be enjoyed somehow."

THE paint mills at Ashland are now busy again, after several weeks' partial idleness, and will continue to run until a good supply of the article is had. Of late they have had quite a good demand, and have disposed of all they had in stock, both of the dry and mixed article. The present run will be on both the dry and mixed, with the dry to be handled first. They have lately begun the production of several different shades of the paint, a departure which will not from indications be without its reward.

REV. JOHN GREGG FEE, of Berea College, was in Maysville yesterday. He will be seventy-seven years old next Saturday. He was a very conspicuous figure in the days of slavery agitation, and has held many public debates on this question, one of them being a three-days' discussion with the late Judge Hayden Nelson at California, Ky. In about 1854 Mr. Fee originated a plan for the co-education of the races and sexes, and in about 1859 he had Berea College chartered and organized for this purpose. The college has had its ups and downs, but is a success to-day, with nearly 400 students, matriculating from nearly every State in the Union. The college has over 300 acres of land, about $96,000 in buildings and an endowment fund of $106,000. This is a good illustration of what one man can accomplish.

OBITUARY.

Died, September 2, 1893, at Colorado Springs, Colorado, Jennie Lee Frazee, aged twenty-three years.

Jennie Lee Frazee was born on the 3rd day of September, 1870, near Germantown, Mason County, Ky., being the only child of David C. and Maria Frazee, now of this city, and at the time of her departure from this life was within a few hours of the twenty-third anniversary of her birth.

Lovely and attractive in all the attributes of person and character, the light, the joy of her mother's life and the pride and comfort of her father's house, the center of a wide circle of fond relatives, friends and intimate associates, she was likewise adorned with the richest gems of their purest affection, and radiated and reflected their luster on the mirror of a sweet, gentle heart and a refined and polished christian soul.

Vainly seeking relief from the withering blight of an insidious disease, death claimed her in the house of strangers. When autumn's first winds sighed their sad lament, when the callous frost had painted its hectic flush on the cheeks of the leaves, this sweet spirit returned to the God who created it—painlessly, peacefully, fading hence like the refrain of some tender, touching symphony of her much-loved violin, now silent and unstrung, leaving as a cherished keepsake to her kindred and companions a recollection of her only, but sweet, as the perfume of a broken violet, or that celestial harmony we go to, and lastingly as the fond heart of memory.

Tears, for such as these, are alike the tender tribute of both parents, kindred and friends. Sadly sweet and assuaging much of the heart's bitter anguish at her loss, they serve to quicken, refresh and keep perennial a sacred memory of her innocent and beautiful life. It is, therefore, not farewell we say to this much-loved, absent one. Death can claim no triumph while the living truth of immortality and the consolation of a still more perfect life survives and flourishes among the grass and flowers on the grave where the mortal part of this sweet, pure girl awaits the glad awakening.

That which we prized most hath but gone before and vanished from our sight, only to quicken our aspirations to rejoin her and behold and comprehend the glory, the majesty and the wisdom which hath called her spirit hence.

TRouble WITH THE INDIANS.

The Comanches and Kiowas and Cattle-men Can Not Agree.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—The interior department is again having some trouble with the Indians, particularly the Comanches and Kiowas, and Secretary Hoke Smith may be right glad that he paid a personal visit to the reservations this fall, for the information he obtained while out west will come well in hand. An immense petition has been received by the interior department from the Indians referred to, and in it they protest against the ratification of the agreement entered into with the Cherokee commission.

The Indians claim that they made the agreement through the false representations of the commission and their interpreters, and now they want the papers turned over to their fury, that they may consume them in the flames of their camps. The interior department will respond to the petition by ordering Colonel Duncan to investigate whether or not any fraud was used in the transaction. The officer is ordered to report at once in the new field, so that the whole matter may be ready for congress without delay.

The trouble, as usual, comes from the cattlemen who have leased the reservation from the Comanches and Kiowas for a term of years. The idea seems to be to create dissension and keep congress from ratifying the agreement which may then allow the lease to extend indefinitely. The cattlemen started this movement among the Indians in order to give their backers on the floor of the house something to work upon.

They seem to have an understanding that if it is presented to congress that there is something shady about the agreement with the Indians, that it was signed without full knowledge of its contents, there will be some excuse for filibustering and for defeating the ratification measure. This is simply a basis of operations for the business friends of the cattlemen to work out in the house. A bitter fight is promised, and this is only the first shot in the contest against approving the agreement.

It is even hinted that the cattlemen will make it very pleasant for Colonel Duncan while he is making his investigation, and his report will indicate how he takes to their seductive treatment while in their midst. The same old gang having an interest in the town site and allotment matters on the strip are interested in the grazing privileges of the Kiowa and Comanche country, and there is little doubt but the colonel was quite captivated by their treatment when he was on the strip before. A great deal will depend upon his report in this matter, and the cattlemen and lobbyists will await its forthcoming with no little anxiety.

NOVEL SCHEME.

Talbert of South Carolina Has a Currency Idea.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Among the many currency schemes the newest is that proposed by Mr. Talbert of South Carolina. The bill which he attempted to introduce in the house Wednesday for the enlargement of the volume of currency and the distribution of the same, provides that upon the demand of any state, the secretary of the treasury be directed to issue government notes, which notes shall be a legal tender for all debts, public and private, and shall be non-interest bearing, and an amount of said notes not to exceed $30 per capita shall be by the secretary of the treasury be issued to such state.

The state making a demand shall deliver to the secretary the lawful bonds of the state to the full amount of government notes demanded, and such bonds shall be taxable at the rate of 1 per cent, said tax to be covered into the treasury before April 1 of each year by the proper state authorities; said bonds to fall due at the expiration of 20 years from their date.

Each state to which notes may be issued shall make provision for the distribution of the same as it may deem best for the welfare of the inhabitants thereof.

SUPPORT OF CATHOLIC PRESS.

It Is Promised to Mgr. Satolli in His Attitude Toward Schools.

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—Among the many notable gatherings in connection with the Catholic congress is a meeting of the Catholic press, attended by representatives of the leading Catholic papers throughout the country. Father Malone of the Colorado Catholic, called the attention of the assemblage to the widespread scandal caused by published anonymous attacks upon certain exalted personages in the church. He offered resolutions which were unanimously adopted, condemning such attacks and continuing as follows:

WHEREAS, Much confusion in the past has existed in the American mind regarding the attitude of the Roman Catholic church toward the public schools, be it

RESOLVED, That this convention expresses its great pleasure with the lucid explanation of the subject as given by his holiness, Leo XIII, and his accredited delegate, Archbishop Satolli.

RESOLVED, That the American Catholic editors in convention assembled pledge their heart-whole loyalty to the great pontiff and their unswerving devotion to the person and mission of the apostolic delegate, and also to the prelates and clergy of the church.

WAS NOT SHORT.

Quartermaster Taylor of the Grand Army Fully Cleared.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 8.—A report that John Taylor, late quartermaster of the Grand Army, had resigned because there was a shortage in his accounts, meets with express denial from Commander Weisert. All the money was turned over to Taylor's successor. The report is attributed to the story that the auditing committee found the accounts tangled up, but afterward straightened them out. Taylor says he resigned because his duties as tax collector for Philadelphia compelled him to.

LONDON, Sept. 8.—Sanitary Inspector Dougherty was stricken with Asiatic cholera in Hull Thursday morning and was taken to the hospital.
